

STINGRAY POINT
BOAT WORKS

Hooray for Spring!

The Groundhog predicted an early spring although the Farmers Almanac states a colder than normal March. We here at the yards and marina are going to go with the groundhog! So let's go ahead and start planning for warmer weather, longer days on the water and taking care of everything needed to get your boats ready to enjoy the best of what we here in Deltaville have to offer!

Chesapeake Boat Works and Stingray Point Boat Works

First things first, have you thought about the different items you will need to take care of to get your boat water ready? A few things to consider: bottom paint, compound and wax, commissioning your systems, etc. plus many more things you will want to check prior to launching. Be sure to visit our websites for a full list of commissioning items, www.chesapeakeboatworks.com and www.stingraypointboatworks.com the websites have a Commissioning Check List you can fill out and send back to the appropriate office. Be sure to let them know your projected launch date so we can place you on the schedule accordingly.

Fishing Bay Marina

As we move into the spring we are preparing the marina and making updates around the facilities. I know everyone is excited to get back to their boats and begin preparing them for the season. Just as a heads up, we have not decided on a date for turning the water back on to the docks and B-dock bathhouse but it will be no later than April 1, 2016. The marina is actively working on improvements around the facility. We will be reaching out to our slipholders with more information as we move into the Spring so keep a look out in your inbox.

Best of the Bay

As most of you know, Chesapeake Bay Magazine runs a contest for "Best of the Bay" every year. This is focused on our local Boatyards and Marinas. We would greatly appreciate your time in taking a look at the link below and providing any feedback you can to support our facilities.

In closing we are as excited as you are for Spring to finally be here, hopefully. We look forward to helping you get your boats ready for the water, get them settled in their slips, and watching you enjoy them out in the water.

Thank you,

The Farinholt Crew
